RELIEF COMMISSION IN ANNUAL REPORT

The annual report of the county relief and employment commission was filed with the board of supervisors Monday by C. E. Stickles, until the first of the year the executive secretary.

The financial statement was for the year ending June 30, 1919, and showed a total expense of $39,008.57. The refund from the state orphan aid of $5,259.78 reduced the actual cost to the county to $27,748.79. The report says that "relief had grown to the enormous expenditure of $54,000 the year previous to the commission's formation."

The report covers a resume of all activities, including the new policy of closing the orphan's home and securing boarding homes for children, revision of county burial permits, state aid for children, cooperation with the county hospital and investigation of all applications for admission into that institution, social service in the hospital, care for out-going patients, cooperation with the anti-tuberculosis society and Red Cross, mental examination of school children, Christmas charitable cooperation, venereal clinic installed by the commission with financial assistance from the state and government.

Following is a statement of the number and character of cases handled during the fiscal year by the commission, and the financial report:

Three hundred and thirty-seven relief cases were cared for during the year.

Seven hundred and twenty-three hospital cases were investigated and helped to care.

These 1060 cases comprised 463 families and 2021 persons. Three hundred and seventy-four single men and 91 single women were among this list.

On July 1, 1919, 136 cases were carried over from the preceding year. One hundred and thirty-five cases of state aid for children were administered. Thirty-eight families were sent elsewhere, either with assistance of friends and relatives, or at county expense. No case was sent elsewhere except where proper care could be given at other end of the journey.

Forty-eight families regained self support and removed themselves from our lists.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO CONFER TONIGHT

A meeting of all real estate men of Upland and Ontario is called for tonight at the office of O. N. Steele, 107 West A street, Ontario, to hear Supervisor C. E. Grier explain the meaning of the new law recently passed by the legislature, which requires all persons selling real estate, except their own, to take out a state license. A law by which any man could sell any piece of property has been in effect up to the present time and as there is so much confusion on the subject, the real estate men of the colony have asked Supervisor Grier to talk to them this evening. All people interested are invited to be present at seven-thirty.

E. W. Fischer is in charge of the musical program and it is going to be a fine treat.

FORESTRY BOARD MAKES CHANGES

The State Board of Forestry, in session January 7th, adopted four definite clauses to be included in the forest policy for California that will be presented at the next session of the legislature. The adoption of the four definite clauses is the result of several meetings of the Forestry Board. Forestry problems in this state and those of the nation as affecting this state have been thoroughly investigated. The four clauses adopted follow:

1. Appropriation by the state legislature of sufficient funds for the prevention and suppression of forest, grain and pasture fires outside of national forests.

2. Acquisition of logged-off areas, both in the redwoods and pine forests, as a nucleus of state forests for future timber supply.

3. Acquisition of watersheds necessary for the conservation of water for domestic and irrigation purposes.

4. Renewal of forests on logged-off areas and watersheds that are in need of reforestation.

Board members pointed out that the forests of the United States are melting away at the rate of 40 billion feet board measure per annum in excess of what is grown, and that the next decade will see unprecedented logging and milling operations in progress on this coast because the forests of the Atlantic and Gulf states are practically gone. Practically no attempts are being made anywhere to provide for new forests on logged-off areas.

"Immediate action must be taken in California," declared Dr. George C. Pardee, chairman of the Board of Forestry. "If this state is to profit by the mistakes of states and other nations that allowed their forests to be devastated without providing for future forests. Vast logged-off fire-swept forest areas will not attract tourists nor will they support saw mills and thriving communities, nor provide lumber for future generations."

Already the logged-off area in California is approximately 600,000 acres. To this is being added about 25,000 acres annually at the present rate of cutting. In addition, fires annually devastate large areas.

While a fire protective system is authorized by law, the funds to make it effective are limited. At least $150,000 is necessary, declare members of the State Board of Forestry, to install a fire protective system that will even partially protect the forests, pasture and grain areas of California. The large fire that swept the watersheds near Los Angeles last summer cost the Federal Forest Service approximately $150,000 to combat.

"The annual hay, grain and pasture losses occasioned by fires are tremendous," declared Solon H. Williams, Forestry Board member from Yreka. "While thousands of dollars worth of these products are saved annually by existing fire fighting organizations, there is still much to be done. The normal annual loss of hay, grain and pasture several times exceeds the amount necessary to install a fire protective system for California that will protect not only hay, grain and pasture, but also our forests."

Colonel Ed Fletcher, member of the State Board of Forestry from San Diego, directed attention to the manner in which fire annually ravages watersheds areas. "Forest cover," he declared, "does very much to hold water in the mountains from winter

FROST THREATENS NO DAMAGE DONE

With Jack Frost playing tag around from 3 to 28, citrus fruit growers have been up on their toes the last night or so, but thus far very few orchard heaters have been lighted. Cucamonga on the east and Claremont and Pomona on the west found it necessary to do a small amount of orchard heating, but Upland seemed to be holding banana belt temperatures in spite of the cold.

Many men state that this will be the only cold spell of the winter but growers are going to play safe and be ready whenever the cold threatens.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTICES

NAZARENE CHURCH

Evangelist Earl E. Curtis, the New York evangelist, will begin revival services in the Nazarene church Sunday of this week. Mr. Curtis has never visited California before but has labored extensively in other parts of the country and has met with great success. He is a very forceful and convincing speaker and those who hear him once are sure to come again. Mrs. M. H. Prator, the sweet Gospel singer of Los Angeles, is sure to attract the people by her beautiful spirit and wonderful voice. The Nazarene Quartet will also help in the singing and the meetings without doubt will be the most helpful and successful of any yet held in the Nazarene church.

The services on Sunday will begin at 11 a. m., 3 and 7:30 p. m., and will continue each evening at 7:30 p. m., except Saturday, until further notice.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS TUESDAY

The regular business meeting of the Upland Post 73, American Legion, will be held next Tuesday evening at seven-thirty in the chamber of commerce rooms. Smokes and good eats will be one feature of the evening and the rest of the entertainment will depend a great deal on the response made by the members to the request of the entertaining committee, to bring as many views the size of a postal card, as they possess, of interesting things taken by them while in the service. These views will be thrown on the screen and every boy who has one or more is asked to be sure and bring it next Tuesday night.

Shannon & South also make a specialty of the repair of Dodge, Hudson, and Chalmers cars.

storms, prevents excessive erosion and floods and provides a more continuous water supply during the summer months. The value of water for irrigation purposes cannot be overestimated. It is apparent that California's continued prosperity depends largely on the wise management of our forests."

OUR NAMES NOT WRITTEN THERE

The city of Upland is now in a curious position. Although the Federal law is that all census should begin January 2nd, the census at Upland has not yet been taken.

Mrs. Leahy and Mrs. Allen were appointed as enumerators some weeks ago, accepting their appointment with the provision that they receive the per diem rate of six dollars granted to enumerators of districts where the population is scattered over large areas, as is the case in our city of groves. When after much correspondence the compensation was finally said to be $2 per day and three cents a name, their appointments were declined.

The district supervisor of census, C. F. Rowan, of San Diego, expresses himself as in favor of the rate asked for but states he is without authority to grant it.

Wherefore until further application for these positions is made and appointed, the work of enumerating the citizens and residents of Upland will be delayed.

"FAIR AND WARMER" AT THE COLONIAL

Tonight and Saturday at the Colonial Theatre is May Allison in one of her new Screen Classics, "Fair and Warmer," success, by Avery Hopwood. The picture is an adaptation of one of the most successful farces ever presented on the American stage. Its run in New York for two years, and elsewhere for fully as long; and its extended vogue in London pronounced it that.

The advent of Miss Allison, easily one of the most captivating of motion picture comedienne, in a new picture is event enough; but in so celebrated a piece as "Fair and Warmer" those who follow the screen here will be given an exceptional treat.

The story concerns the tribulations of two young married couples. In one case the young wife complains that her husband, Billy, is so perfect that he is dull; and in the other case the young husband, although he adores his wife, employs just the tactics Billy should take advantage of—he goes out of his way to keep his wife guessing. And when circumstances cast together Billy and the apparently neglected Blanny, the result is one of the most absurdly funny series of situations ever contrived, even by Mr. Hopwood, who is admittedly the premier farce writer today in America.

The screen production has been done elaborately, and in some instances the original play has been given additional punch through employment of means at the command of the screen producer, but impossible on the stage. The entire production was done under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director general for Screen Classics, Inc., and the exceptionally able cast selected by him.

WILDING TO DIRECT THE ONTARIO BAND

Under the above heading the Ontario Daily Report of last Tuesday says:

Band concerts in Ontario during the coming summer were practically assured last night when members of the city council acted favorably on the recommendation of Gordon G. Whyte, head of a chamber of commerce committee, that Fred Wilding, Jr., successful conductor of the Upland band, be engaged at a salary of $50 a month to organize a band here and commence practice in the near future.

The council favored immediate action and requested that a citizens' committee, headed by Mr. Whyte, take the necessary steps to secure a first class band and to investigate the matter of a shell band stand and other details. The cost of the music for the first year will be about $1500.

DR. LANDRITH HERE MONDAY
Dr. Ira Landrith, famous Southern orator and Chautauqua lecturer, will deliver his lecture, "Atlas on the Water Wagon—Get It Done," at the M. E. church Monday evening at 7:30. Dr. Landrith is famous as a clergyman, journalist, lecturer, and his speech of Monday night will be well worth hearing.

MURDER CHARGE IS DISMISSED BY JUDGE

The case against Andreas Trujillo, 20-year-old Mexican charged with the murder of a countryman at Guasti on Halloween night, was dismissed by Judge Rex B. Goodcell this week at the request of District Attorney T. W. Duckworth, who stated that the evidence was insufficient to convict and that even the district attorney's office was not convinced of the man's guilt.

Although the case was dismissed yesterday morning notice of the action did not reach the county jail until late last night, when Attorney A. S. Maloney, who had been retained to represent Trujillo, appeared to inquire if his client was still in custody.

Notice of the dismissing of the case as a complete surprise to Trujillo, who has been in confinement for more than two months and he had a relieved expression on his face as he walked down the jail steps in company with his attorney.

Trujillo was celebrating on Halloween night with a group of friends at Guasti. He carried a pistol and fired it several times, one of the shots passing through the side of a tent and killing one of the occupants. Trial on a charge of murder had been set for Wednesday of this week.

EXPLOSIVES FOR MOUNTAIN ROAD

Blasting out the narrow places on Mill Creek Canyon road can be done soon for a carload of TNT, the great explosive, has just been received. It is a gift from the United States government which is giving the powder for use on mountain roads. The City Clerk received a carload a short time ago.

Work on preparing a powder magazine in Mill Creek Canyon in which to store the explosive has started. Although there is no date set for the moving of the prison camp, the work on the former road is rapidly nearing completion and barring interference from a possible snow storm the camp will be taken to the Mill Creek location and begin work with the powder before many weeks.

HEALTH OFFICER DEFIES THE COURT

In charges filed with Los Angeles supervisors, the Public School Protective League demands such immediate action by that body as will protect citizens against what is stated to be the announced purpose of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, to disregard the laws of the state. This action is the result of a statement issued a few days ago by Dr. Pomeroy in regard to a recent decision upholding the present physical examination exemption law.

By a law passed at the 1919 session of the legislature, any child enrolled in the public schools whose parents file with the principal of the school a statement in writing to the effect that they will not consent to physical examination, is exempt therefrom. A suit was recently brought by the league to compel observance of this law and the court held that it expressly prevented any physical examination of the children of those opposed thereto. In an official statement issued from the county health office, Dr. Pomeroy commented on this decision and announced that although this law has been upheld by the courts, that he would not recognize the rights of parents thereunder and that any parent insisting upon his rights under this law would be quarantined so long as exemption was claimed.

"Such a statement," says the league in its communication to the supervisors, "on the part of a public official sworn to uphold the law seems incredible. Our government is one of laws and not of men, and the unqualified announcement by a public official that he does not intend to obey the law and will imprison citizens who have the temerity to assert their rights under a law which the legislature has passed and the courts expressly upheld, is lawlessness of a degree which we submit demands vigorous and summary action."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Swan and son Kennard arrived from Berkeley last night where they have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Swan and family. They made the round trip by automobile.

TEXAS LAST PLACE FOR BUNKO MEN

The fight of E. J. Ward and Chas. Gerber to escape return to Texas to face trial for a $45,000 bunko game, still hung fire yesterday when Judge Willis of the Los Angeles superior court, acting for the appellate court, continued until 2 p. m. today a review of the case.

The writ of habeas corpus was sought on the first set of extradition papers, and the papers in the extradition granted by Governor William D. Stephens Tuesday had not reached Los Angeles yesterday. The attorneys for the defendants asked for time in which to inspect the extradition granted by the governor.

Efforts of Ward and Gerber to escape from the custody of Sheriff W. A. Shay were made before Judge Willis. The attorneys urged that the prisoners be remanded by the court to the custody of Los Angeles officers. This Judge Willis refused to do, and he likewise refused to extend the writ to include the Texas officers.

"I have every confidence that Sheriff Shay will have these prisoners in court at the specified time," said the court.

Yesterday Sheriff Shay received a telegraphic request from the superintendent of police at Washington, D. C., asking that Ward be turned over to him for a $35,000 bunko game. The capital police maintain they should be entitled to Ward because the offense there was prior to the Texas swindle. The sheriff has ruled that the Texas officers, as the first who asked and came for the prisoners, are entitled to them.

TWO MILLION HIS INHERITANCE TAX

Two million dollars, the largest inheritance tax ever fixed under the laws of California, will be paid to the state by the heirs of Henry Miller, cattle baron, within six months, according to a decree signed by Judge Frank H. Dunne in the San Francisco superior court, word of which reached State Controller John S. Chambers Monday.

The tax was $1,883,000 and with interest exceeds $2,000,000.

The court's decree finds the gross value of the estate's assets to be in excess of $41,000,000, accepting the figures as fixed by Appraiser R. F. Mogan, representing Controller Chambers. The contention of the Miller heirs during the three years of litigation was the valuation should not exceed $17,000,000.

Over one million acres of land in California, Nevada and Oregon were inspected and appraised by agents from the controller's office, in addition to bank assets, canal companies, meat products, stocks and bonds.

The value of livestock and other personal property was found to be more than $10,000,000.

Controller Chambers said that, with the money from the Miller estate, inheritance tax collections for this fiscal year probably would exceed $5,000,000. A portion of all inheritance tax money goes into the state teachers' retirement fund.

RICHARDSON TO BE MANAGING DIRECTOR

The people in this colony, "the home of electricity," will be interested in hearing that an electrical company, which has recently been organized in Canada, is composed of the same three companies that organized a similar one in the United States two years ago, the Hotpoint of Ontario, and the Hughes and General Electric of Chicago. J. R. Richardson of Chicago, who is a brother of Earl Richardson of Ontario and Mrs. Winters of Upland, has been appointed managing director. The main office and factory of the Canadian Edison Appliance Company will be situated at Stratford, a town eighty-five miles distant from Toronto, Canada.

NEW RECORD

A new record for number of companies incorporated in California was established during 1919. During the year 2721 companies filed incorporation articles—an increase of 943 over 1918. The total capitalization was $625,142,846.

Did it ever occur to you that telling the people what you have to sell is the simple solution of success. Many men attribute their success in business to the fact that they told the buyers of merchandise what line of goods was carried and for how much those articles could be bought.

You may have the goods, Mr. Business Man, but unless you tell the people about it, why have them at all.

WHAT ARE LIBERTY BONDS WORTH?

DO you know what Liberty Bonds are worth? Just exactly what you can get. And what you can get for them depends upon the old law of supply and demand.

If you had a watch worth $100, and wanted to sell it, and every one in the world, or every one you met had a watch, you'd probably have to sell it at a bargain. Some man with money willing to wait for a demand market would offer you $80. You would probably accept it because you needed the money, and other people didn't want your watch. Mind you, it was, and is, for the purpose of this argument, worth $100 all the time.

Now let us change the situation. You want to sell the same watch, and nobody has a watch. Now, what is the result? A bids $100 for it, while B and C and D bid against each other to get it. You may sell it for $110 or $120, or even more. Yet it is the SAME watch which under a flooded watch market you were trying to sell for $100, and for which you could only get $80.

Ah! But this only applies to materials, goods, supplies, while Liberty Bonds are money, you say! Liberty Bonds are NOT money. Liberty Bonds represent the promise of the United States Government to do a certain thing at a certain time—pay the holder of the bond $100 in 20 years, for instance, together with a promise to pay the interest to the owner by cashing the coupons every six months. Is there any man in the United States with the temerity to suggest that the Government won't do as it promises? Hardly, we think.

Since the bond when you bought it was definite—since the promise was to pay the $100 in 20 years and the interest semi-annually—you could not expect the Government to pay it before the time agreed upon. This would be as unreasonable as for you to borrow money by mortgaging your home, giving a note due in two years, and then having the lender come to you at the end of the first month and want his money. You would have a perfect right to refuse to pay him—he must live up to HIS agreement to let you have it for two years as faithfully as you must live up to yours, to pay him the interest promptly, and so forth.

So with the Liberty Bond. You have the Government's promise to do a certain thing in 20 years. Yet before that 20 years is up, you want to collect the money. What must you do? Since you evidently cannot equitably demand your money from the Government before it is due, you must find a private buyer.

Hence you come into the market place to find some one willing to buy your bond. But other people are in the same position as you are—plenty of sellers and a paucity of buyers. The inevitable happens. You are placed similarly to a man with potatoes or watches for sale—every one has them, therefore you must market of sellers, and a scant buying. And so it is reasonable to suppose that with a flooded market of sellers, and a scant one of buyers, with sellers bidding against each other to get rid of their bonds, or their potatoes or their watches, men with money are going to buy the goods as cheaply as they can.

So we see Liberty Bonds in a flooded market sold at less than their face value, or below par, as it is commonly termed. And then, what?

Time goes on—sellers thin out. The market readjusts itself. Those who had too many have sold, sacrifices have been made just as they are made with pianos, or turnips, or sewing machines. No more are issued, and the interest is being paid. Everybody is happy, and the United States Government is still solvent, and living up to its promises.

Comes a change. Immigrants come into the country. Immigrants from certain sections of Europe are frequently ill-educated, and suspicious. They don't trust our banks, because they don't understand our banking system. Years ago it was a common thing for the poorer classes of Italians, Austrians, Hungarians and Greeks in our larger cities to take their money to the post-office and buy money orders, to have a safe place in which to put their money. Many an alien has paid Uncle Sam $3.50 for taking care of $1000, by buying orders at the general postoffice in New York.

Then came the postal savings bank. Here was a chance to not merely save the $3.50 postal fee, but also to get $20 a year for having Uncle Sam keep their money for them. And now? When the immigrant learns he can buy a Government bond and get $47.50 a year for each $1000 there will be a market for Liberty Bonds which will bring them above par.

If you can see five years ahead, you will see some of the Liberty Bonds selling for as high as $115 for a $100 bond, exclusive of the past due interest coupons. And if you need any indication of such a development, watch your daily papers even now—look at your market reports and note that the first and fifth issues are both on the exchange at par, with a strong upward tendency.

Don't allow shrewd sharpers and scheming promoters to undermine your faith in Government bonds! If the time ever comes when this Government can't stand behind its paper, you won't have any interest in life, anyway. Hold onto your Liberties, clip and cash your coupons every six months as they fall due, and watch your investment getting better and better until the rest of the world would be glad to stand in your shoes! —Mission Enterprise.

THIS RULE WILL "PAD" OUR CENSUS

FOR census purposes, one's home is literally "under his hat." According to instructions, people are to be enumerated in the precinct where they spent New Year's day, or the essential part of it between midnight of December 31 and midnight of January 1. This means that the thousands of tourists now in Southern California are to be enumerated here, and while that may give some advantage to all of the cities of the southland, it is the only way, nationally speaking. For if people are not enumerated here, they will not be counted anywhere. The taking of the census will be completed long before they have returned to their homes in the more or less frigid East. Strictly speaking, the census of the United States is as of January 1.

Riverside seems concerned over getting the full count, and perhaps may well be, for doubtless there are 100 tourists there who will not be counted elsewhere, and the Press says:

"The census doesn't care about your 'legal residence.' It is concerned only with your present 'home.' Naturally if you live in Riverside at present your 'home' is right here for the purpose of the census. You cannot be enrolled elsewhere.

"Thousands of persons who came here from other states still maintain a 'legal residence' elsewhere. Many of them have property interest back east or do not wish to change their legal residence because they want to avoid jury service, or for other reasons of their own. This does not prevent them from having their home in Riverside for the purpose of the census."

That may be unpleasant news for residents of eastern and middle western states who wish to be counted in Kalamazoo or Oshkosh, but it's the rule of the census, and it must be so. Government is not so much interested in knowing how many residents there are in Kennebec, Maine, or Keosauqua, Iowa, or in Pike county, Missouri, or in San Bernardino, California, but it is very much interested in knowing how many people there are in the United States of America. Hence the necessity of counting people where they may happen to be on a given day. The result may be to give Southern California credit for 250,000 more people than really belong here—now. But they'll all come back. They can't stay away. The figures therefore will not be wrong. They will just slightly anticipate the facts.—San Bernardino Sun.

NO SPOONING IN AIRPLANES

Sheer impossibility of Sociability While Flying May Constitute Bar to Popularity.

The most fatal thing of all at the present time to the popularity of flying is its unsociability. The pilot may have the profile of a Greek god, but if every time he turns it to speak it is necessary to shut off the engine, and one's heart stops, too, it is difficult to think of a witty response. And mostly he does not turn it. All one has for company is the upper two-thirds of the back of a leather helmet. As a match-making proposition the airplane is a failure. And as for descending to some flowery meadow and there saying all the things he has been thinking up while in the air, I can only say personally that after two hours of flying, I was stone deaf, and I wouldn't have known whether he was telling me he adored me or was asking me if I wanted a drink of water.

I was quite deaf for some time. We landed at an army aviation field before a lot of ground mechanics and flyers, and if I expected that the removal of my goggles and discovery of my seat was going to make any sensation I was disappointed. D'you think they ran up and shook me by the hand and observed that I was a brave woman?

They did not. A man in overalls came up and I gathered by lip reading and his gestures that we weren't wanted where we were, and to move on down the field and park somewhere else. No newspaper men, no excitement, no cameras. Was this thing to be lost to the world?—Mary Roberts Rinehart, in Saturday Evening Post.

IS AIRMEN'S PATRON SAINT

Michael, With His Wings and Spear, Is Peculiarly Qualified for That High Position.

It was the wing of St. Michael, chief of the archangels and head of the celestial militia, which Jeanne d'Arc heard, they say, whirling about her in the little garden of Domremy when she had her softly spoken but insistent call to arms. And now, as if it were not enough to be the one who called Jeanne d'Arc from Domremy to Rouen, St. Michael is also the patron saint of aviators, because he heads celestial warriors and battles in the air.

In a London church on Spanish place—the church to which King Alfonso went when he was there—there is a new stained window with an airplane mosaicked into its design, and that window is dedicated to St. Michael, patron saint of airmen.

St. George met his dragon on the earth, but St. Michael battled with the devil and his angels in the celestial spaces and threw them out of heaven. With his wings and his spear he was the great prototype of the armored airplane, and it may be that even the inspiring Jeanne d'Arc did not satisfy him and that he has always kept in his mind this time when men should fly and fight as he did.—New York Evening Post.

Horse Adapts Itself to Change.

The horse, which as Thomas Winans predicts, will be extinct ten years hence, has shown a remarkable knack of adapting itself to changing geological periods. The animal has increased in height, while others have shrunk and disappeared; but the fossil remains of horses, only a few inches high, which roamed our planet at least two million years ago, are almost perfect models of the existing type. The most marked change has been in its feet. Beginning with five toes to each foot, the horse met changing conditions by occasionally shedding a toe, and is now the only one-toed mammal known to naturalists. That and the progressive increase in its size have been the only evolutionary processes which the horse found necessary so as to keep its place in the sun. As a worker, weight for weight, it beats the elephant hollow.—Exchange.

Languages of Belgium.

Belgium has two chief languages: Flemish in East Flanders and West Flanders, Antwerp, Limburg and Brabant provinces, or the north and east; French in the province of Liege, Namur and Hainaut and in Luxembourg. The French-speaking Belgians claim to descend from the Belgae, being called Walloons. In 1910, of the 7,423,784 people of Belgium, 3,220,662 spoke only Flemish, 2,833,334 spoke only French, 871,278 spoke both Flemish and French, 31,415 spoke German, 74,983 spoke French and German, 8,652 spoke Flemish and German, 32,

COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK AS IT LOOKED MANY YEARS AGO—IS BEING ENLARGED TODAY

Above is shown the original Commercial Bank, built in the year 1898. In 1907 an addition was added to the building which housed the Citizens Savings Bank and the Magnolia Mutual Building & Loan Association. In 1909 the bank was changed from a state bank to a national bank and named the Commercial National Bank. In 1915 the building was reconstructed, lowering the floor to the level of the sidewalk and the interior finish made of mahogany and marble. At this time the growth of the two banks was such that the Magnolia Mutual had to seek new quarters. At present an addition to the bank is being built which will house a part of the banking facilities as well as the real estate office of Ingalls, Kankel and Grier.

SOCIETY

At David and Margaret Home—
The Priscilla Circle members gathered over yesterday to the David and Margaret Home at La Verne, to spend the day in helping the matron, Miss Rice, and her assistant, Miss Barton, to reduce the huge pile of mending always on hand where there are a number of children. Miss Rice was very grateful to the Circle for their help and will be glad at any time of the assistance of any band of women who feel they have a day to spare for darning socks, sewing on buttons and the various other odd jobs that have to be done. Among those who went yesterday were Mrs. William Rohrig, Mrs. Wilbur Rider, Mrs. E. J. Needham, Mrs. Ira Dinger, Mrs. Joe Reymann, Mrs. Charles Spencer, Mrs. W. F. Kitchel,

Mrs. Joel Smith, Mrs. A. Hostetler, Mrs. Jay Rogers, Mrs. A. J. Handley, Mrs. LeRoy Bradley, Mrs. S. S. Genung and her guests, Mrs. and Miss Sutton from Iowa who are spending the winter here.

Manker-Johnson—

The wedding of F. Bradford Manker and Miss Edna Johnson will take place at the home of the bride in Rome, New York, on the 10th inst. Miss Johnson is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Johnson of Rome, and is well and favorably known there, having been connected with the Rome Chamber of Commerce for some years. Bradford is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Manker and possibly needs no introduction to the people of Upland, having been born here, when Upland was North Ontario. A graduate of Chaffey Union High School, he entered Michigan University, attending there a year, when he entered the employ of the Rome Gas, Electric Light & Power Company as assistant engineer. While there he met Miss Johnson. Soon after entering Syracuse University he enlisted and was overseas with the 23rd Engineers until the signing of the armistice, since when he has been connected with Barrett Company, of Cleveland, which has plants in all the large Eastern cities. Brad has charge of the co-ordination department in the district which includes two plants in Cleveland, one each in Youngstown, Syracuse and Toledo.

The young couple will make their home at 13313 Clairborne avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

Federation Board Meeting—

A meeting of the executive board of San Bernardino County Federation of Women's Clubs has been called by the president, Mrs. F. H. Manker, for Tuesday the 13th at 10 o'clock, at Colton, the Colton Woman's Club being hostess for the day. A box lunch will be taken by those attending and a hot drink will be served by the hostess club. Mrs. Goodell of San Bernardino will be the speaker of the Colton club in the afternoon at their regular meeting, and to which the guests are invited.

Johnson-Welch—

Miss Clara Welch, a sister of Mrs. Glenn Atwood of this city, was married last Tuesday evening to Edward W. Johnson at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Welch, Bonita Court, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Winthrop Allison, and beautiful music was rendered by an orchestra during the service. On the return of the happy couple from their wedding trip they will make their home in Ontario.

Miss Dinger Hostess—

Miss Maude Dinger entertained with a six o'clock dinner last Tuesday at her home on Sixteenth street in honor of her brother Melvin, who leaves tonight for Hampton Roads, Virginia, after enjoying a fortnight's furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dinger. Covers were laid for eight, and following the dinner Miss Dinger and her guests motored to the Colonial Theatre and spent a delightful evening watching a fine performance of "The Man Who Stayed at Home." Those who enjoyed Miss Dinger's hospitality were Miss Emma Klusman of Cucamonga, Miss Joette and Miss Okla Whiteleather of Los Angeles, Earl Ford of Ontario and Charlie Miller of Upland.

Surprise for Mrs. Knight—

At the close of a neighborhood prayer meeting held in Bethany Union church, San Antonio Heights, Monday evening, January 5th, all present, with one or two exceptions, left the church at once, going next door to the home of Mrs. Charlotte Knight, who had been asked to stay for a few minutes at the church. Upon entering her home Mrs. Knight was greatly surprised to find that neighbors and friends had taken complete possession and were very much at home awaiting her arrival.

A social evening was spent and an informal musical program given. Mr. Douglas Sage sang "A Perfect Day" and a charming duet sung by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hewlett was very much enjoyed. The old familiar songs sung by every one were part of the evening's amusement, all present joining in with alacrity.

Mrs. Knight was asked to step into the dining room to cut a large birthday cake covered with white icing and decorated with tiny red candles worked into the numerals 85. Beside the cake was a dainty package which when opened was found to consist of bills of various sizes, several silver dollars, nickels and dimes. This marks only in a very small way the high esteem in which Mrs. Knight is held by all who know her—not alone in the neighborhood but in the whole community.

Mrs. Knight, despite the 85 milestones she has been spared to pass, still delights in brightening dark spots in the lives of those who are sick or in trouble.

Mr. O. V. Rice gave a very warm toast to Mrs. Knight in which he praised her life, an example, he said, to every one.

Coffee and cake were served to those present who, besides the guest of honor, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gansby, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Fuller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sage and family, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. H. J. Clewett, Mrs. Ingram and daughter, Mrs. Wiebe, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Stump, Mary and Robert Stump, Miss Ina Henry, Miss Smith, Miss Byer, Miss Ruth Hickson, Miss Rowena Ross, Mrs. J. F. Horsley and Mr. O. V. Rice.

Annual Meeting—

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church the same officers were re-elected. They have been so efficient in their work that there was no thought of a change. Mrs. Paul is president; Mrs. Stone, vice-president; Mrs. Nisbet, secretary, and Mrs. Lemon, treasurer. This same board were hostesses of the day and served tea during the social hour.

Rebekah Circle—

The members of the Rebekah Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. C. M. Sikes on Wednesday of next week and will sew all day for the David and Margaret Home at La Verne. Each one attending will bring box lunch and the hostess will serve a hot drink.

His Tenth Birthday—

Robert Kitchel, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kitchel, is celebrating his tenth birthday today at the home of his parents, with a party of boys. Games will be played and the refreshments will include a large birthday cake beautifully decorated with candles and icing. The boys who are invited are Nugent Harper, Earl Harper, Robert and Eldon Naffel, William Wilding, Harold Busby, Edwin Clark, William Bowden and Brooks Kitchel.

HOUSING IMPROVEMENT, WASHINGTON

The United States Civil Service Commission states that housing conditions in Washington, D. C., have materially improved since the signing of the armistice, and that a constant further betterment is noticeable. Fully 25,000 persons have left Washington during the past year, with the result that available rooming and boarding places are much more plentiful than during the war period.

The War Camp Community Service has undertaken to furnish information concerning rooms and board to newcomers. It cooperates with the Traveler's Aid Society at the Union Station, where all trains arrive, and conducts a Homes Registration Bureau and a General Information Bureau at No. 1402 Pennsylvania avenue, N. W. The Traveler's Aid desk is in the main waiting room of the Union Station. A Traveler's Aid worker, wearing the national badge, will meet new arrivals, refer them to temporary rooms if desired, and direct them to the Homes Registration Bureau, where a list of available rooming and boarding places in the city is constantly maintained. All rooms which are listed have been investigated by War Camp Community Service workers, and the bureau has, in each case, a record of the location, telephone number, price asked, and other desirable information. This entire service is rendered without charge.

The Homes Registration Bureau reports that the price of a room for one person ranges from $15 to $20 a month, and that the usual charge for a room accommodating two persons is from $25 to $30 a month. Table board costs from $25 to $30 a month for the two principal meals of the day.

Persons newly appointed to the Government service in Washington are advised to consult the Traveler's Aid agent at the Union Station immediately upon their arrival in the city.

A surprise party for Mr. Howard

Frost was given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Frost. Mr. Cyrus McClean assisted in inviting Howard's friends and helped further on the evening of the party by taking Howard out for a ride until the guests had assembled. The guests were from among the young man's high school friends. Many enjoyable games were played during the evening and home-made candies, punch and nuts were constantly in reach so that the young people felt that the new year was starting off very pleasantly indeed in the way of social events. Members of the younger high school students, who were not included in the party for Howard Frost were invited to the home of Curtis

Smith where they spent the evening in dancing and other diversions. Mr. and Mrs. James Spence helped chaperone the party and Miss Vera MacLaren of Upland was over for the night and to aid as hostess, as Miss Isabel Smith entertained at the Frost home.

Messrs. Ned Francis, Alfred Phillips and Henry Hodge went up West Canyon Saturday as far as Cedar Camp, where they spent the night. Cyrus McClean made an early start Sunday and overtook the boys going with them to the back Flats. The entire party returned Sunday evening after a taste of real winter weather, which they think is a delightful change.

Mrs. Mary C. Burbank, who has been ill for several months is slightly better this week and for the first time in week is strong enough to do a little hand work which helps to pass the time for her. Many friends keep her room bright with potted and cut flowers.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jones of Palo Alto who are spending a few weeks at El Monte attended the Rose Tournament in Pasadena with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Orendorff and were guests at dinner on Sunday. Miss Mac Orendorff came over from Upland and spent Monday evening at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stegmeler are taking their dinners with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mueller until Mrs. Stegmeler regains strength from her long illness.

Mrs. J. D. Orendorff, newly elected president of the Etiwanda Aid Society, called the committee together Monday afternoon and planned the year's work for the local organization. Mrs. Jack-Scott, Mrs. Wm. McClean and Mrs. Charles Donnelly are hostesses for this week's meeting in the basement of the church. With a great many more ladies interested in the work, 1920 promises to be a very prosperous year as well as a very interesting one socially.

The new officers for the Sunday school began work Sunday morning. Mr. Alfred Phillips will assist Miss Helen Burbank as superintendent, Donald Mueller is advanced from assistant secretary to secretary with Curtis Smith as assistant. Miss Evelyn Koch assumes charge of the birthday collections for the year and the work as organist is divided for a change among several girls who will each take their turn. Miss Bessie Troyer, who formerly had all of the responsibility, is now aided by Miss Ethel Bilyeu, Evelyn Koch and Irene Scott.

Messrs. Thomas Donnelly and Alfred Smith have been busy this week keeping the workmen on the job of putting water pipes into the church property from the Pacific Electric water system. This will eliminate the pumping plant that has long been a nuisance to whatever pastor has been so unfortunate as to be interested in its operation.

Mr. Herbert Price, who has charge of the Open Forum at the Sunday evening meeting of the young people, was unable, on account of illness, to attend last Sabbath. Rev. C. W. Greenlee read the questions which related to current events in the world in general. Considerable interest is taken in these short discussions and possibly those who do not read a great deal will be kept in better touch with the various "crying needs" of the time. At least it seems to point a way in which churches might awaken the interest of its voters to the needed reforms.

Mrs. C. W. Greenlee is suffering from blood poisoning in her hand as the result of a burn recently.

Mrs. Gertrude McDowell who has been ill since a few days before Christmas at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Greenlee, was sufficiently recovered to return yesterday to her home in Highland Park, Los Angeles.

A large percentage of the population motored to Pasadena on New Year's day to see what they declare was the prettiest parade they ever witnessed at that place. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mr. D. W. Layne, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones and Miss Katherine Jones remained for the ball game in the afternoon, having been able to secure tickets through a Pasadena friend.

Mrs. A. C. Smith and children spent Saturday in the shopping district of Los Angeles.

Mr. Walter Price left for Ocean Park a few days ago to take up his new work there as sub-station operator for the Pacific Electric. He will be at the same station with R. O. Bowen with whom he was associated at the Etiwanda sub-station.

Mr. J. Zohre of South Pasadena is taking the place vacated by Mr. Walter Price at the Etiwanda station. He goes back and forth from his work daily, not having been able to find hotel accommodations at this place.

The Etiwanda Christian Endeavorers held a business meeting Monday evening at the home of their president, Mrs. Thomas Donnelly, and planned the work for the coming year. A large number are planning to attend the Southern California conference of Endeavorers to be held Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday at Ontario. San Bernardino and Riverside counties are rivals in an effort to show the best attendance and Mrs. Donnelly hopes that every one who can will go. She is planning to take her machine full of young people to the banquet which opens the conference Friday night.

Mrs. Eva R. Fisher is learning the ropes in the Etiwanda postoffice and her friends hope that she will ultimately receive the appointment as postmistress here. Mr. W. H. Frost, who has been postmaster for several years, does not wish the place longer now that he is out of the store.

YPRES A BIG SOUVENIR SHOP

Virtually the City's Sole Industry Now
Is the Getting of Money
From Tourists.

The future of Ypres is still uncertain. No one knows at present to what extent the town will be rebuilt as it was. All that is certain is that the former population of some 18,000 souls are now for the most part at Paris-Plage and Blankenberghe and that most of them are anxious to return "home."

There are more than a thousand people living in Ypres today, but these are mainly adventurers from Brussels and elsewhere, who have been attracted by the chance of making money out of visitors, says the London Times. A new Ypres is rising among the ruins of the old, but it is a wooden Ypres, of a character altogether repulsive to all who realize that a quarter of a million lives were given to defend the salient which takes its name from the town.

The new Ypres is a place of cafes and restaurants, of mobs of picture postcard hawkers, of pleasure wagons and omnibuses, of souvenir hunters and noise. There is a so-called "British tavern" in the grand palace itself, and the road to the Menin gate is lined with places of refreshment. In the town and its vicinity there are 135 cafes and restaurants, and everywhere among the tumbled heaps of brick and plaster, stone and girders men are eagerly hammering and building to increase the number.

The Belgian government has shown itself very willing to consider all reasonable proposals in the way of conserving the ruins and of erecting memorials. It has declared that the remains of the Cloth hall, cathedral and adjacent buildings will be left as they are. It has allotted to the Canadians certain sites for the erection of an English church. There has been talk of preserving the whole of the remains of the town as a memorial.

GREAT IS FROSTY MORNING

Health-Giving Air Seems to Bring New Life and Hope to Souls of Men and Women.

After gloomy days, the frosty morning comes as a benediction. It seems to put new life and new hope and new aspirations into the souls of men and women, remarks the Columbus Dispatch.

Not long ago there was a nasty week. Clouds and moisture—and depression. The sun was all but forgotten, for if it showed itself at all, it was with a sickly feeble glow. The muscles became flabby from the warm temperature; dispositions took on the nature of the weather. There was no elasticity in the step, no mirth in the voice, a slow, dull, listless tiredness took hold of people. And then came the frosty morning. One did not have to have eyes to know that the sun was shining, nor ears to hear the music of attuned Nature.

A hundred years were saved right here in the city in the quickened pace of the people. A thousand horsepower was added to the strength of the laborers. The good resolutions that were made would fill a library—and the inspirations that came to those who breathed deeply of the frost-laden air will keep the world a-going for another season. Great are the blessings of God scintillating from every crystal; divine music borne upon the wings of the health-giving air.

Airplane Saves Taxpayers' Money.

The practice of conveying prisoners to jail by airplane was begun in San Francisco recently when Ivan Gates, police aviator of the San Francisco department, flew across the bay to Alameda and returned with James M. Kelley, who had been sentenced to six months in jail. Kelley, who was brought across with no handcuffs on, says he enjoyed the trip across the bay, though it was rather short—less than five minutes. The airplane went up 5,000 feet. Chief of Police White says: "Think what a saving it will be if we can send a plane to Reno or Los Angeles for a man and have him back in a few hours. Now there must be a long, expensive trip by train, with a stop over night at a hotel."

To Make Potato Flour.

Arrangements have been made in Great Britain for the establishment of mills for the production of potato flour, which it is hoped will be on a large scale. Although this industry has been established on the continent for several years it is a new one in Great Britain. The British ministry of foods has for some time been conducting experiments in potato flour, as there has been an overproduction of potatoes, and the flour will provide a means for the consumption of the over-supply.

Postgraduate Course.

A maid-servant in the home of the poet Wordsworth told a caller who asked to see her master's study, that he studied in the fields. No one can read Wordsworth's poems without realizing that however much he owed to books, he owed more to nature. No matter how many diplomas you may take, your education will not be complete till you have taken a postgraduate course in the open.—Girls' Companion.

Why a Chalmers Starts
Quickly on a Cold Day

YOU can let a Hot Spot Chalmers stand in the cold all day and then step on the starter button and—almost instantly—the engine is running.

No long wait, no running down of the battery, no lost temper. Instead, quick action.

In a few moments the engine is running with rare smoothness, minus backfire and "coughing." It is "firing on all six."

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn are responsible for the quick starting in a Chalmers.

Hot Spot vaporizes the raw gas to a fine point; and Ram's-horn hurries it quickly and evenly to the cylinders.

So that there is full ignition and hence quick power and smooth power.
